AMS Flight School Chosen as Preferred Partner School by ExpressJet

Milton, FL – October 31, 2017. AMS Flight School, a part 141 flight school located in Milton, Florida has been selected as a Preferred Partner School by ExpressJet Airlines.

The preferred partner school program is designed to provide a pathway to future employment at ExpressJet for qualifying student pilots. The program is available to those student pilots who have completed, or are nearing completion of their flight training with AMS Flight School and meet the following qualifications to be considered as prospective hires by the airline:

- Holds a FAA commercial pilot certificate with multiengine and instrument ratings
- Obtained a CFI certificate and preferably has instructed at AMS Flight School.
- Has a First or Second Class Medical Certificate
- Has passed background checks by the FAA, Department of Transportation, Homeland Security, or other applicable governmental department, administration or agency.

ExpressJet and AMS Flight School will work closely to ensure that all student pilots participating in the Preferred Partner School Program are of the highest quality and possess the work ethic, flying skill, aviation knowledge, professional attitude, demeanor and qualifications to perform as a successful crew member for ExpressJet Airlines.

“We are extremely pleased and excited to be selected as a Preferred Partner School by ExpressJet Airlines,” said Christopher Schultz, Chief Flight Instructor at AMS Flight School. “This validates the exceptional track record of AMS Flight School and the superior flight instruction we provide to our career minded students. The Program provides added value for our students and the incentive for them to excel in their flight training,” continued Mr. Schultz.
